NOTION SLE and Garritan Personal Orchestra in Perfect Harmony

NOTION Music has released NOTION SLE, a special version of their award-winning NOTION3 scoring software that is customized for Garritan Personal Orchestra. NOTION SLE features presets created for GPO that automatically handle all articulation changes in the background, allowing for very realistic playback directly out of the score.

(Vocus/PRWEB) June 7, 2010 -- NOTION Music has released NOTION SLE, a special version of the award-winning NOTION3 scoring software that is customized for Garritan Personal Orchestra. NOTION SLE features presets created for GPO that automatically handle all articulation changes in the background, allowing for very realistic playback directly out of the score.

As the user writes and articulates the score, NOTION SLE will follow the user's instructions and automatically change to the appropriate Garritan Personal Orchestra patch in playback to accurately and realistically perform the score. The user can also take full advantage of NOTION's live performance features and conduct the full orchestra with unmatched level of control in the industry.

NOTION SLE is based on NOTION3's notation and audio engine. NOTION SLE does not have any additional features that are not in NOTION3. This product is designed for non-NOTION users who want to combine Garritan Personal Orchestra library with the power of NOTION3.

About NOTION Music

About Garritan

Everything we do is aimed at helping musicians realize and maximize their creative potential. To that end, high-quality, expressive and affordable software instruments should be within the reach of every musician.

We intentionally make products that work smarter and easier, simplifying music technology to foster, enhance and democratize musical creativity.

Researchers at heart, we pioneer innovation, creating new standards that are consistently in the forefront of music technology... yet remain focused on the human elements of music and real performance.

We believe education is crucial for musicians to reach their highest potential, demonstrated by our broad presence in colleges and universities, and by our free online music courses.
